-Sponsored by Kristen Rossow, Mrs. Idaho, United States 2009 who, among others has been inspired by the story and leadership of Becca Levie.

"He who has a why to live can bear with almost any how."

-Nietzsche

Becca Levie shares a brief account of her life which includes heart surgery at the age of two, abuse, being kidnapped and abandoned by her own mother, and many other challenges. She describes in her book titled "Victim or Victorious!" how these experiences left her feeling victimized, damaged, and without hope of a future and offers the life-giving truths and tools that gave her not only the why to live but also a life of victory, triumph, and joy. Today thousands share the same pain and feelings of victimization that she once accepted. She seeks to reach the hearts of those who have lost hope or have settled for anything less than being victorious.

Becca Levie is also a Top Executive and trainer of leadership with the company Scentsy where she shines and is highly valued as a entrepreneur and motivational speaker. She also is a Rapid Eye Technologist, and wife and mother of four as well. She has authored the inspirational cassette tape entitled The Best Gifts Aren't Always Tied with Ribbon. She has taught seminars on such topics as The Power of Your Thoughts; Let Your Light So Shine; The You, You've Yet to See; and many more.
